

HAVE YOU HEARD OF PLANÈTE ENERGIES?

It's an educational website about energy, run by Total's corporate Foundation. Its aim is to teach young people about energy.

Goal #1

Help you develop your own opinion about energy issues.

Goal #2

Keep you informed about all the impacts and applications of energy.

Goal #3

Raise your awareness when it comes to the responsible use of energy.

Goal #4

Allow you to explore the history and future of energy.

These goals require:

- Accurate facts.
- Objective findings.
- Expert input.

Planète Energies has hundreds of articles and various media resources, including short, clear videos split into three levels:

- Primary school.
- Middle school.
- High school.

They are designed to answer any questions you might have and help you understand key concepts in a simple way.

Planète Energies also has a dedicated platform for teachers, with free resources and educational tools to help inform and interest their classes on energy issues such as:

- Renewable energies.
- Fossil fuels.
- Sustainable development.
- The energy transition.

And much more!

Planète Energies also includes:

- Nearly 200 presentations organized across France every school year and attended by over 6,000 students on average.
- A YouTube channel.
- A Twitter feed.
- A newsletter.
- An immersive educational stand.

And many new initiatives to come!
